WHAT IS A MEDICAL SCRIBE?
A Medical Scribe is a revolutionary concept in modern medicine. Traditionally, a scribe’s job was largely limited to merely taking notes and dictation. However, the advent of the Electronic Health Record (EHR) has transformed the role of a medical scribe. It involves electronic documentation and clinical responsibilities, such as patient charting, and is a key component of the growing collaboration in patient care. The scribe is often placed next to the physicians and is responsible for maintaining the medical record, ensuring accuracy and completeness.

WHY BECOME A MEDICAL SCRIBE?
For someone interested in medicine, whether it is a personal interest or part of a career goal, becoming a Medical Scribe is an opportunity to gain experience and valuable skills that can be beneficial to future medical or healthcare careers. The role of a Medical Scribe is becoming increasingly important as healthcare systems continue to digitize and streamline patient care processes.
