Five Star Faculty Award Committee Seeking Student Members!

The Margaret M. Briehl and Dennis T. Ray Five Star Faculty Award sponsored by the UA Honors College is the only award for faculty at the University of Arizona that is nominated and selected by undergraduate students. First awarded in 1983, this award was created to recognize excellence in undergraduate teaching. Every year, a committee of students meets to create advertising to encourage students to nominate their favorite professor. The student committee then reviews those nominations, selects a top five, and takes part in interviews and/or class visits with the final five professors to decide who will receive this year’s Five Star Faculty Award. The four runner-ups selected by the student committee each receive a prize of $250. The selected winner of the award will receive a prize of $1,000, a surprise class visit from the student committee, and will be recognized at the annual UA Awards of Excellence Ceremony held in March.

The student committee typically meets on campus about once a month up until the Awards of Excellence Ceremony in March. Food is always provided at meetings.

If you are interested in becoming a part of the student committee and helping to select a winner of this year’s prestigious Five Star Faculty Award, please fill out this short Google Form so we can contact you to coordinate our first meeting in October.
